As a happily single woman myself I believe that it is entirely attainable for a single woman to love herself, to feel fulfilled and enjoy her single life, and, if she wants a partner, to be in a position to find one who is right for her. The past 8 years I've spent a lot of time rebuilding my life as an independent woman / single parent and from the ground up after a long term marriage abruptly ended. Dating has been off and on ... Women's History Month is a time to celebrate the achievements of women past and present but also to assess areas where women are still stigmatized and unequal. Single women were unable to gain independence and forced to live under the command of a male at all times during their lifetimes. Their options were limited and under watch at all times. The perception of women is misconstrued and negative during the Renaissance as their treatment remained harsh and severe.
